High order compact finite difference schemes for option pricing

Bertram Düring

We derive compact high-order finite difference scheme for option pricing in fully nonlinear Black-Scholes and stochastic volatility models. We prove their unconditional stabillity and convergence and present numerical results for the European and American option pricing problem.